Don't Miss This Opportunity

A Campaign to Combat Potato and Grain Diseases—Every Farmer Should Attend This Meeting.

Mr. A. B. Ballantyne, County Agriculturalist for Utah County, is now planning a big County-Wide Campaign to prevent the re-occurrence of the potato trouble of last summer in Utah County. Along with these demonstrations will be given the proper methods of treating the smaller grains for loose and covered smuts. This campaign is the outgrowth of numerous requests coming to him for assistance along this line.

Every farmer is acquainted with the serious troubles of last year with these diseases, and are now awake to the fact that something must be done.

A demonstration will be held in each of the following towns: Pleasant Grove, Monday, March 22nd, American Fork, March 23rd, Lehi, March 24th, Springville, March 25th, Spanish Fork, March 26th, and Alpine March 29th.

The morning will be given over in each case to a demonstration of just how to select and treat potato seed, and how to treat wheat, oats and barley for the two smuts. This will be done at a central place in each town, and the farmers will take part as far as possible in the various treatments to learn exactly how to do it.

They should be sure to bring pencil and paper to take complete notes. The afternoon will be spent by Mr. Ballantyne in helping farmers who have a considerable amount of seed to treat for spring planting.

Every farmer should avail himself of this opportunity. Don't miss this chance as it will come only once this year. Every farmer can avoid the trouble of the past by merely spending from one-half to one day of his time in learning to do the thing right.

Careful estimates by the Experiment Station Pathologist show that if the farmers of Utah County will follow these methods, approximately $55,800.00 could be saved each year by reducing the amount of smutty grain only 5 per cent and that of the diseased potatoes only 20 per cent both of which are very small estimates. This is one of the ways in reaching the great number of farmers in a practical way.

The M. I. A. is planning to cover a new field among the young men, namely that of vocational work. Vocational counselors will be appointed in all the wards to induce and assist the young men in selecting life vocations. S. W. Ross was added to the M. I. A. Board, and he, with J. E. Bone, will have this in charge.

The Stake Board also announced that it had secured Miss Mercessa Thompson, who will present the reading of "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm" in the Stake Tabernacle, April 10th. Miss Thompson is a famous reader, and as the entertainment will be given at popular prices, the house will probably be crowded.

number coming from Alpine. A new hearing in the case was set for last Tuesday, but before the case came up for trial the interested parties got together and decided to settle out of court and have the case dismissed. It is understood, however, that the defendant paid all the accrued costs, amounting to about $37.

Pleasant Grove Wins Two M. I. A. Pennants

Stake M. I. A. Board Awards Pennants for Class Activities and Arranges for Field Day and Closing Contests.

For the past two months there has been a contest conducted between the M. I. A. organizations of the Alpine Stake. A certain number of points were awarded for different activities, which included, debating, quartette and chorus singing, dramas, retold stories and reading books in prescribed courses.

Practically all the wards participated.

Last Sunday their reports were read at the stake M. I. A. board meeting and three pennants, 1st, 2nd, and 3rd prizes were awarded. The 1st was given to Pleasant Grove Second Ward, who scored 333 points; the second was awarded to American Fork Third Ward, who scored 286 points, and the 3rd prize went to Pleasant Grove Third Ward, who scored 266 points. The pennants are beautiful works of art and were made by the Western Arms and Sporting Goods company. The Young Ladies associations read 811 books, as compared to the young men's 168, and the young ladies of the stake score a total number of 1137 points, as compared to the young men's 291.

The board decided to hold a general M. I. A. Field Day of all the associations about May 1st. At this time it is also planned to hold stake finals in speaking, singing, chorus work and retold stories, after which it is planned to give a grand ball as a finale to the season's work.

A Field Day committee, consisting of Thomas Broadbent, Samuel Baird and Paul Miner, are working on the athletic program.
